

CITY AND DISTRICT IN GRIP OF NEW ICY WAVE

MONEY BATTLE WITH ENGLAND IS SEEN BY U. S.

Administration Outlines
Plans for Use of Stabilization Fund

NO AGREEMENT
WITH LONDON YET

Money Bill Expected to Reach President by Nightfall

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Administration officials today carefully outlined plans for throwing the $2,000,000,000 dollar stabilization fund into gear at the same time
solving possibilities of a stern currency war with Great Britain.

It is stated authoritatively that the treasury has reached no understanding with London on the relative position of the pound and dollar. In other words, this government will employ what Secretary Morgenthau terms its $2,000,000,000
of "blue chips" independently of England's use of her equally large equalization fund.

When asked the direct question
of whether a currency struggle with Great Britain is imminent, Morgenthau's frank reply was "I don't know."

"Prepared For Anything"

In other quarters, however, it was indicated that while a money conflict stands as a possibility it is not to be feared. Immediately after the announcement it was known that the treasury is known to feel the treasure of the United States gold reserve and the size of the stabilization fund "prepares this country for anything."

Treasury officials, mindful that the dollar strengthened materially since last congress debated the equalization bill—a $496-to-the-pound figure prevailing over the week end as contrasted with the $119 level a few weeks ago—were ready to start using the fund.

There was a possibility today that the money bill might be in Mr.
Roosevelt's hands by nightfall. All that remained was house agreement to senate amendments, and, since the President has opposed none of the alterations, little difficulty was anticipated.

Before jamming the 50 to 60 per cent dollar bill through late Saturday by a 65 to 23 count, the senate
put a two-to-three-year time limitation on the activities authorized and voted the President power if he wants to use it, to issue silver certificates against such of the metal as is purchased from domestic producers.

Proclamation Expected

Very shortly after he receives the bill, the President is expected to issue a proclamation. Although no figure has been disclosed, many believe he will first order an immediate 40 per cent devaluation of the gold dollar. Also he would at once take title to the Federal Reserve system's gold supply and set up the stabilization fund with the profits arising from the devaluation.

By fixing a 50 to 60 per cent
bracket on the "dollar" future
contract—that is, reducing the 22 1/2 grains of fine gold behind each dollar by 40 to 50 per cent—
the treasury is assured a minimum

Nominated

A. E. Beardmore

The nomination of A. Earl Beardmore as postmaster at Salem was sent to the senate for confirmation Saturday by President Roosevelt. Beardmore
has been serving under the official title of acting postmaster.

The recommendations also include those of Harry D.
Arnold at Leetonia and Mrs.
Dale Kneel at Wellsville.

GANG BATTLES EXTRADITION

Face Mid-West Police, Intent on "Getting Their Man"

(By Associated Press)

TUCSON, Ariz., Jan. 29.—
John Dillinger, mid-west ganster and his companion, Harry Pierpont, Russell Clark, and Charles Makley, today waived extradition rights, and agreed to return to Racine, Wis., on bank robbery charges.

TUCSON, Ariz., Jan. 29.—Defiant
even behind jail bars, the "dangerous Dillingers" of Indiana today confronted a small army of midwestern peace officers who had moved into this city over the weekend intent on "getting their man."

Backed by Governor B. B.
McCook's promise that they can have John Dillinger, gangster chieftain and his henchmen, Indiana
authorities expedited extradition papers, and looked over the jailed
men they have accused of a series of robberies and slayings.

Police See Prisoners

Three Indiana officers—Police Chief Nicholas Makar of East Chicago, Sheriff Carroll Holley of Lake County, R. O. Ertell, Lake county prosecutor, and Robert Wilson, an eye witness of an East Chicago bank robbery, headed the parade of authorities who have claimed the outlaws.

Clarence Houston, Pima county, Arizona, attorney, said extradition
may prove slow, as he expected Dil-linger to throw every possible obstacle into the way. Conflicting claims of Indiana and Ohio have been ironed out, he said, and this may help speed proceedings.

Another Indiana officer, Matt Leach, state police chief, agreed to allow Lima, Ohio, to have three members of the gang, Harry Pierpont, Russell Clark and Charles Makley, on charges of slaying Sheriff Jess Barber last October.
Barber was shot during an attack
on a jail which resulted in Dillinger's release.

Wanita Woman, Too

Leach said he wanted Dillinger for Indiana. He accused the ganster chief of killing Patrolman Pat O'Malley during a bank robbery at East Chicago. Wilson, who was with Leach said he also demanded Miss Mary Kinder for aiding in the prison delivery of 10 of Dillinger's

103 Will Graduate At Alliance High

ALLIANCE, Jan. 29.—One hundred and three members of the mid-year graduating class of Alliance High school will receive diplomas at commencement exercises Thursday night in the high school auditorium. The program, to be presented entirely by the class, will start at 8 p. m.

The affair will open with a prelude by the high school orchestra,
led by the instructor by Rev. A. H.
Elsheff, pastor of Immanuel Reformed church. Members of the girls' glee club will sing and Principle J. E. Vaughan will make announcements.

Lupe And Johnny Repair Feelings

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 29.—Injured
marital relations which Lupe Velez thought would take two weeks to heal, were mended in less than 24 hours, the Mexican movie actress
and her husband, Johnny Weismuler, have disclosed.

Miss Velez and Weismueller separated last Wednesday, the actress saying they were going to try a
"trial separation" for two weeks.

SALEM'S READY TO HONOR F. D. R. WITH 8 PARTIES

Roosevelt Birthday Celebrations Scheduled
Tuesday Night

BEARDMORE ASKS
TICKET REPORT

Funds Will Go to Extend Fight Against Infantile Paralysis

Joining with other cities in a national movement to create an endowment fund to combat infantile paralysis and at the same time honor the fifty-second birthday anniversary of President Roosevelt, Salem residents will assemble at eight parties and dances Tuesday night.

Proceeds will constitute this city's contribution to the Warm Springs, Ga., foundation for extending and intensifying the nation's fight on infantile paralysis,
an ailment with which President Roosevelt was once stricken.

Eight Parties Planned

Salem's functions were increased to eight today with announcement by General Chairman A. Earl Beardmore that the Knights of Pythias will hold a party at their hall. Other events will be staged at the Memorial building, Masonic

Contribute $100

A contribution of $100 was made today to the Warm Springs endowment fund by the Transylvania-Sachsen society which will hold its ball and party at the Sachsenheim, Railroad st.

hall, Elks lodge, Maccabee lodge
hall, Sachsenheim, Roumanian Leul hall and the Veterans of Foreign Wars hall.

The Memorial building fete will be a bridge party. Dances will be the attractions at all other places
with the exception of the V. F. W.
hall where a cribbage tournament
will be sponsored by the Salem Cribbage league, composed of eight fraternal organizations of the community. Both dancing and cards are planned by Knights of Pythias
for members and friends.

Chairman Beardmore again
pointed out that a reduction has been made in admission fees to the parties and dances. Formerly $2 a couple, tickets are now sold at $1 a couple.

Asks Ticket Report

Beardmore today requested all persons assisting in the sale of tickets to report to either Vincent Judge or O. C. Hoover before tomorrow night for a final check-up.

Radio will be installed in each of the eight halls and ballrooms
where the parties are to be held for the reception of a broadcast of the presidential ball being held in Washington, D. C. The President will be heard in an address of greeting to the entire nation.

The broadcast is scheduled at 11:15.

O'Brien Renamed By Alliance Chamber

ALLIANCE, Jan. 29.—Board of directors of Alliance chamber of commerce met Saturday at chamber of commerce headquarters in First National Bank building and elected officers for 1934. George O'Brien, president-manager, was renamed to the combined position for his fourth term.

Other officers named include P. C.
Siddall, vice president to succeed A. A. Mulise, and George Schweickert, renamed treasurer. Earl Wright again was chosen secretary to O'Brien.

O'Brien will combine his duties at chamber of commerce with those connected with the state liquor commission to which he recently was named by Governor George White. Plans are underway by the group for the membership drive at which efforts will be made to increase the membership in the organization, especially among the smaller merchants.

Melvin Traylor In Relapse Again

(By Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—A third re-lapse suffered by Melvin A. Traylor, president of the First National bank, in his fight against pneumonia, led physicians to view his condition with alarm today.

The crisis developed last night
from a heart strain, and followed several days of marked improvement. He was stricken two weeks ago.

Hits Sales Tax

CLEVELAND, Jan. 29.—A proposal for a general sales tax for the state was denounced by State Senator Marvin C. Harrison as a
"devilish iniquity x x x urged by the rich."

The Roosevelt league for the advancement of social justice went on record as opposed to the tax.

She'll Wed Doug, Jr., It's Reported

Although the actress, herself, refuses to confirm or deny the reports, London friends of Gertrude Lawrence, British stage actress, insist that she will marry Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. (inset) within the month. They say that the ring worn by Miss Lawrence was placed there by Fairbanks.

Father Of Missing Man Issues Appeal

(By Associated Press)

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 29.—Sixty-seven-year-old Adolph Bremer, ill and worried, today pleaded with the kidnappers of his son, Edward,
for some sign that the missing man
is still alive.

As the twelfth day passed since a gang seized the younger Bremer, without any definite word of his fate, the elder Bremer apparently was becoming more concerned, and sought a contact with the abductors.

He made public a statement yesterday in which he said:
"Please communicate with us. We want our son back. We are ready to negotiate and the money is ready if you will only tell us where to meet you. (Signed) Adolph Bremer."

Even federal operatives of the department of justice have been unable to span the sea of silence that has widened between the abductors
and the family since the first ransom note and a telephone call were received by Walter Magee, wealthy contractor and friend, a few hours after Bremer was spirited away.

Italian Fliers Are Safe In Crack-up

(By Associated Press)

PORTALEZA, Brazil, Jan. 29.— Four Italian fliers who cracked up on the beach near here early today
after spanning the South Atlantic,
were brought to Portaleza by a rescue party shortly after noon.

Two of the men were injured
slightly.

Former Candidate Fails In Burglary

(By Associated Press)

HOLBROOK, Ariz., Jan. 29.—Accused of attempted bank robbery, Dillworth Sumpter, who last October as a candidate for congress drew the largest Socialist vote in Arizona's history, is in jail.

Sumpter, defeated in the election
by Mrs. Isabella Greenway, Democratic is accused of battering at the foundation of the bank in an effort to tunnel through it.

"I have burgled everything," police quoted him as declaring after asserting he needed money to support his invalid mother.

Mrs. Lucilla Sumpter, the accused man's mother, is in a Gallup N. M. hospital recovering from a fractured pelvis.

Sumpter was arrested last night
in a chase that started as Patrolman James Hickey heard blows coming from a hidden space between the First National bank of Winslow and an adjoining building.

Police Chief R. L. Neil of Winslow said the former candidate admitted he planned to tunnel into the bank before it opened today.

Hunters brought the animal here
Sunday. Their hunt ended early
yesterday when two of the men shot
the animal as it crouched in a tree.

The "kangaroo" was charged with
slaying, and partially devouring,
dogs, sheep, and other animals. Even
as it fell from the tree with its
death wound yesterday it killed one
of the hounds in the pack that
chased it.

Scores Churches As Poor Teacher

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—Churches were scored by Dr. John Thompson, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, for what he said was their failure to teach the secrets of the "mystery of life" along with their anti-divorce attitudes.

"I fully believe in such instruction for young people," he told his Sunday congregation. "Young people should be taught biology, physiology and the secrets of the mystery of life. The church is responsible for that instruction, not the parents or the college."

Wound Fatal

MANSFIELD, O., Jan. 29.—A bullet wound in the head, J. B. Borden, 43, a steel mill worker, was found in his home, and died an hour later.
He apparently shot himself.

Arraign Banker

FINDLAY, O., Jan. 29.—Charles
M. Beard, 48, secretary of the Findlay Savings and Loan company, will be arraigned tomorrow
on a charge of embezzling $1,351.
He was arrested yesterday and is charged also with perjury.

Employment Up

CANTON, O., Jan. 29.—Employment in Canton is within 1,500
of the normal level, the chamber of commerce reported.

Three hundred more men have been placed in jobs, bringing the number of fulltime employees in the city's 68 leading industries to 14,756.

THREE BURNED TO DEATH, MANY HURT IN FIRES

Damage Estimates Run

GIRL LOSES LIFE
AS COTTAGE BURNS

Two Sleeping Men Victims as New York Club Is Destroyed

(By Associated Press)

Cold gales fanned numerous fires
today in widely separated places.
Three persons were burned to death. Many were injured. Damage estimates ran to seven figures. The extreme cold felt throughout the north, hampered fire-fighters.

At Troy, N. Y., the club house of the Veterans of Foreign Wars burned down, killing two sleeping
men, seriously burning a third.

13 Firemen Injured

Three-year-old Mary Logoviano
lost her life when flames consumed
the cottage of her parents at Ham-morton, N. J. Row after row of frame structures fed gale-fanned flames along the waterfront at Canarsie, on Jamaica Bay, in Brooklyn, N. Y. Thirteen firemen were injured. A section stretching for a half mile was destroyed.

At Anderson, Ind., fire that started in a six-story bank building spread over a half block of the downtown district and raged for six hours before firemen could bring it under control. Damage was estimated at $500,000.

The telephone office was destroyed and the city was without communication. Several firemen and police men were injured.

The four-story merchant's mill at Fall River, Mass., unoccupied, but formerly a cotton textile factory, burned rapidly in the face of the wind and help had to be summoned from neighboring towns to prevent spread of the flames to nearby properties.

The home of Percival H. Smith at Bridgeton, N. J., one of the largest residences in the city, was destroyed by fire and the home of Paul Connor in another part of the city burned at the same time.

Summer Resort Burns

Wrightsville beach, a summer resort at Wilmington, N. C., was hit by a blaze that caused damage estimated at between $500,000 and $1,000,000.

The drastic temperature drops saw the mercury at 35 degrees below zero in Bemidji and Virginia,
in the northern part of Minnesota.
Bemidji reported an extreme drop of 71 degrees.

At Duluth it was 29 below. In the southern part of the state, it was 15 below at Winona, and 11 below at Austin.

Temperatures in North Dakota
ranged down to 23 degrees below zero at Fargo, where drifting snow made highway travel hazardous.

It was 46 below at Mount Washington and the wind blew at a velocity of 105 miles an hour.

Hunted Kangaroo Just A Bad Lynx

(By Associated Press)

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Jan. 29.—
A 15-hour hunt over Signal mountain has ended in the killing of a large long-horned mountain lynx believed to be the "kangaroo" that terrorized the Hamburg community near South Pittsburg, Tenn.

Hunters brought the animal here
Sunday. Their hunt ended early
yesterday when two of the men shot
the animal as it crouched in a tree.

The "kangaroo" was charged with
slaying, and partially devouring,
dogs, sheep, and other animals. Even
as it fell from the tree with its
death wound yesterday it killed one
of the hounds in the pack that
chased it.

Weighting more than 40 pounds,
the animal measured 50 inches in length.

Its long legs indicated it might have traveled with leaping strides.

Knights-Pythias Plan District Meet

Knights of Pythias in District 1, comprised of Columbiana, Ashlabula, Trumbull and Mahoning counties, will hold a meeting Saturday evening, March 3, at Lisbon.

The Boys band from the Knights of Pythias home, Springfield, will furnish some of the entertainment.
Supreme and grand officers are expected to attend.

The Boys band will be accompanied by the superintendent of the home. There are 30 boys in the band and they will spend the night at Lisbon. On the following day, Sunday, the boys will attend some church of Lisbon in a body.

SIX ARRESTED IN CWA PROBE

Sale and Transfer of Work Slips Alleged in Youngstown

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Jan. 28.—Six Youngstown men, arrested yesterday by federal agents on conspiracy charges involving alleged sale and transfer of CWA work slips, and in some cases, alleged forgery of CWA checks, are in county jail today awaiting a preliminary hearing Feb. 8.

The accused men are Fred Russo, 24, Mike Patrone, 25, Dominic Patrone, 23, Rocco Patrone, 19, Walter Wilson, 33, Joe Russo, 26.

Bail for the first four was set at $2,000 each; for the last two at $1,500 each.

Wilson is alleged to have got two CWA work slips, and to have sold one for $8 to Mike Patrone, who also is charged with having given the slip to Dominic Patrone.

Joe Russo is alleged to have given a work slip to Rocco Patrone. Fred Russo, it is charged, worked a few hours on a slip, then gave it to Mike Patrone, who is alleged to have taken a CWA check to Russo
for his signature.

Lancaster Church Members Divided

(By Associated Press)

LANCASTER, O., Jan. 29.—Court
litigation has given a faction of St.
Peter's Evangelical Lutheran church,
recognized by the Ohio synod, possession of the church property, but today there were two separate congregations, both of which held services last night.

About 350 of the recognized group held services in the church and listened to Dr. D. Bruce Young, of Shelby. This group plans to elect a pastor soon.

Led by Rev. Paul Weimer, pastor
over whom the congregation divided,
about 300 met in city hall auditorium to hear their leader. This group organized temporarily as "the Orthodox Lutheran Church of Lancaster" and elected all officials who had served previously.

Midway Institute Officers Are Named

Officers of the Midway institute elected at the annual session, held Friday and Saturday at Midway grange hall, south of Leetonia, are:
President, Dallas C. Sitter; vice president, Paul W. Sitter; secretary, Mrs. C. J. Halverstadt, all of Leetonia, R. D.

The executive committee is comprised of Howard Kessler, Lloyd Holloway, Clara Windram, Ida Zimmerman.

Speakers for the institute programs were Mrs. Charles Lawrence, Wooster, and W. L. Manahan, Defiance. An orchestra from the Fairfield Central school furnished music.

Bury Teacher

MARIETTA, O., Jan. 29.—Funeral services were held today for Dr.
Arthur Granville Beach, 63, professor of English literature at Marietta college since 1913.

A native of Granville, O., he died Saturday after a two-year illness.
He was a brother-in-law of Charles G. Dawes, of Chicago.

Will Rogers

(Copyright, 1934, McGraw-Hill Book Co., Inc.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Well visited the Senate Saturday,
and renewed many pleasant acquaintances. They are a fine bunch of fellows when you take into consideration the amount of things the people lay on 'em. They rant at each other in there, then come out and are good friends.

Had the pleasure of sitting by Mrs. Alice Longworth in the Senate gallery when the gold bill was passed. Alice, due to the Roosevelt tradition, took it right on the chin and smiled.
She sincerely believes that no
president ever carried the faith of as many people as this distant relative.

PRODUCTION!

The sweetest music of the age of machinery and mass production is being heard in Detroit. Men who have waited impatiently for years to enjoy it again may be pardoned for their outbursts of enthusiasm.

Inspired by the automobile industry's best prospects since the peak years before the year 1929, they are saying that whirling factory wheels and renewed employment for thousands of workers may be marking the turning point in the depression.

The echo of their optimism is picked up and enlarged in dozens of other communities whose factories are sharing in automobile production. The hundreds of parts that go into the manufacture of each automobile are gathered from every corner of the country. Increased production in the huge factories at Detroit makes its effect felt even in foreign lands.

Demand for automobiles, established on the motor car's status as a necessity has been kept alive throughout the depression years by sound advertising and the constantly increasing desirability of modern cars. A huge potential market is already in existence needing only buying power to activate it. Half the automobiles in the country are five years old or older.

The effect of the increase in employment which has taken place logically can be expected to appear first in motor car demand. Reports of industry's renewed activity in Detroit demonstrate that purchase of automobiles is one of the first outlets for popular buying power.

Hard experience has taught the country not to let optimism obscure hard facts. It is taking the automobile industry's production apart with a grain of salt. Even so the taste is good, very good. It aids conviction that the United States is gathering strength for another period of expanding production and increasing standards. Automobiles may have the honor of providing the stimulation that will make 1934 the final year of depression.

A SINCERE TRIBUTE

It would be hard to devise a more fitting tribute to President Roosevelt than will be paid this week on the occasion of his birthday tomorrow. Genuine affection and admiration for the man will be transmuted into assistance for a project that lies close to his heart, in the plans for hundreds of benefit balls and luncheons for the Georgia Warm Springs Foundation.

Mr. Roosevelt has made Warm Springs and its purpose of helping people to combat paralysis a national project. His own courageous fight against the disease has enlisted aid for other victims to an unprecedented degree. Of all the ways that a sympathetic people might have celebrated his birthday, none could have expressed more directly the people's high regard for the President than their plan to help him give encouragement to crippled Americans.

HAMILTON, Bermuda — What may be a world's record for Sunday school teaching was being set by Miss Nellie Tringham, who retired recently after sixty years of service as superintendent at St. Paul's Church, Paget. She plans to continue teaching for several more years, but declined to act as superintendent.

MARQUETTE, Mich. — Despite the fact that billions of tons of iron ore have been mined in the upper Michigan peninsula, an almost inexhaustible supply still remains. One county alone is estimated to contain 40,000,000,000 tons of high grade ore that so far have not been touched, enough to supply the entire United States market for two decades.

New York Day by Day

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Jan. 29 — Diary: Out, and coming upon Albert Keller, twined him for a breakfast of eggs Florentine at the Ritz. Then tacking across town, talking with Minnie C. Vesey, Edmond O'Brien and Frank Chapman. And article for an ashon gray shirt with thin red stripes I doubt my lady lets me wear.

So home and came upon Margaret Moore, as lovely as ever, in the lift. Did my stint but botchily. John Hertz tells of two workmen outside his window one day, discussing in blasphemous fashion a third workman who had just departed. "He is," said one, "a blankety blank." In fact, he is a blankety blank blank. And after a rumormongering second added: "And not the best of them!"

Herald Square, so busy by day, languishes in a soft triangular sprawl at night. It is a district hallowed with pleasant memories for seasoned New Yorkers. The blinking green ovals rimming the coping, the brawny, shirt-sleeved men of cast iron who hammered out the hours on the big bell, the cellar whirr of the presses, the wig-wag men with red and green flags guiding traffic, the night lunch wagon into which James Gordon Bennett often stepped for a midnight snack—all are gone. That rainbow that zooms across Broadway's peaceable heavens stops suddenly on the fringe of Herald Square, giving it the soft and soothing belation of Trinity.

There is always suspended animation about Fifth Avenue around midnight when I often walk with my dog. Even riders on occasional bus tops seem to have lost their voices. Last night the cathedral flickered faintly luminous from a moon slipping through a fretful scurry of clouds. The only sound to break the thick silence was a thin rustle of organ music trembling down the nave and far off, like a voice in a cloud, the echo of prayer. One wanted to tiptoe on.

The Stars Say:

The configurations of the predominant planets intervening in this day's affairs would seem to favor methods of privacy and secrecy, with possibly a tendency to intrigue and conspiracy, rather than direct and open agreements. Yet it is a very auspicious rule for those in authority and power and for those hoping for honors, preferment or support of those. Seek promotion and increase, but tactfully and with diplomacy.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a year of liveliness and probably conspicuous success, with favoritism and honors from high sources even though much may be found most profitable through secrecy and private agreement rather than "open policies openly arrived at." It is a time for approaching employers or those in power through diplomacy or subtlety.

A child born on this day should be a profound student and observer, with subtle and clever insight into matters of an unusual nature. It should attain fine position and favoritism with those in authority.

Penalty of Hurred Eating

Recently I told you about the great strides that have been made in the treatment of stomach ulcer and other disturbances of the digestive system.

Hardly a day passes that I do not receive inquiries about "Indigestion," "heart burn" and "dyspepsia."

These complaints are universal. But when we consider the manner in which most persons live, it is surprising that the number of sufferers is not even greater.

No one will deny that many of the digestive diseases can be traced to our improper methods of living. Too many men and women unduly bolt their food and give little time or thought to their meals. There is an old saying that "man digs his grave with his teeth." There is no wonder when we think of the rush and excitement of our modern age.

Chew Your Food
The digestive process is a complicated one. To have it operate as it should requires care and attention. Neglect or abuse of the delicate mechanism of digestion quickly leads to trouble.

It is probable that few persons are familiar with the action of the digestive juices. How many know that the saliva is necessary to the proper digestion of food? This secretion of the mouth is only of value when it is thoroughly mixed with the food by slowly and carefully chewing it before swallowing.

If the food is not properly chewed and is hurriedly swallowed, an important step is omitted. The saliva is not permitted to act upon the particles of food to get it ready for action by the stomach. As a result the food reaches the stomach in such a state that unnecessary work is demanded of the digestive juices in the stomach. This overactivity leads to distress and discomfort.

Cure for Heartburn

Many cases of dyspepsia and indigestion are quickly cured by slow and careful chewing of food. Heartburn, so commonly encountered in persons who are careless about their manner of dining, is often overcome by slow and leisurely eating of the food. In addition to the avoidance of hurry, emotional excitement should be shunned by those who suffer from heartburn and other digestive disturbances.

May I impress upon you that heartburn is not by any means a sign of heart disease. The name might indicate this. It is the result of overeating, faulty chewing and the improper choice of foods. Of course, not all cases of indigestions and other digestive complaints are so easily remedied. It is possible the symptoms may be due to an organic disturbance of the digestive tract. Cases of this nature require complete examination in order to determine the real nature of the disease. Special medication may be required in these conditions.

How Are YOUR Nerves?

Whatever your job or position in life, healthy nerves are worth any effort. Yet with many of us jangled, irritated nerves are only too well known!

Check up on your habits—your eating, your sleeping, your recreation, and your smoking. Countless people have turned to Camels and are enjoying a new freedom from jangled nerves. And they are urging their friends to join them!

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS than any other popular brand.

You'll like the taste...the remarkable mildness...of Camel's choice-quality tobaccos. And you can enjoy Camels steadily...hour after hour...without nervous irritation, or the aftertaste associated with the flat or "sweet" type of cigarette.

So change to mild, rich, good-tasting Camels, they never get on your nerves...never tire your taste.

"MOTHERS NEED HEALTHY NERVES, TOO, MISS WIGGINS."

Miss Mary Wiggins, America's most daring Stunt Girl, says:

"I have to be sure my nerves are healthy to do my stunts. As to smoking, I've found that Camels are milder, better in flavor, and do not give me 'edgy' nerves, even when I am smoking a lot."

Mrs. F. R. Bruce, Larchmont, N. Y. Mother, says:

"Healthy nerves are important to me, too. Meeting infinite demands with patience and unruffled nerves—that's a mother's job. And one who is 'on edge' with nerves cannot create a happy home. Smoking is one of my chief enjoyments. I have found that the choice, more expensive tobaccos used in Camels never upset my nerves—and I prefer their rich, mild flavor."

CHAPTER ONE

Stanley awakened with a feeling of excitement. For a moment he stared with sleep-blurred eyes at a splash of glared light against an apricot tinted wall, at an oblong of golden sunlight sprawled across a dull green carpet. Then, as consciousness came flooding back to her, she sat up in bed and flung her arms about her slim knees.

She knew now why she felt excited. For the first time in three years, she was waking up in New York. For the first time in three years she was free to do exactly as she pleased. It suddenly seemed a bit overwhelming. Even frightening. It implied so much. This apartment, for instance. She had bought it from Anita Lawson. She thought, with a quick flicker of amusement, that if Anita had not been so good in choosing a husband, she had obviously used in furnishing an apartment, she would not now be on her way to Paris in pursuit of a high-pressure divorce.

It was a charming apartment. There was something gay and intimate and sort of cozy about it. Stanley already felt at home in it. Released. As she had never felt during the three years she had lived in one hotel after another, on the Continent.

But that was over now. Quite definitely over. Stanley had suddenly decided to come home. After three years of passive non-resistance, she had without the slightest warning rebelled. Thinking about it this morning, sitting up quite straight in Anita's slim posted mahogany bed, Stanley decided that she had simply reached a point where further inaction to ennuil was impossible. So she had left her Aunt Julia playing very bad cards on the Riviera and come back to New York. She wondered now why she had not done it before, why she had been content to drift so long in an environment that was not only unattractive to her, but actually distasteful. She decided that her father's sudden death and her aunt's deceiving protectiveness had undoubtedly been the reason. She was glad it was over. That she was back in New York. That it was early April and that she was young and lovely looking and quite free to do as she pleased.

As soon as she called a few people on the telephone, things would begin to happen to her. Pleasant things. Gay, carefree, inconsequential things. The sort of things that hadn't happened to her during all the previous time she had been away.

She reached for the telephone, cradled it against her chin, and smiled. She was going to call her father. She was going to call her mother. She was going to call her aunt. She was going to call her uncle. She was going to call her cousin. She was going to call her friend. She was going to call her lover.

Stanley frowned at herself critically. Nice hair, deeply, warmly brown, just brushing her shoulders. Nice skin, smooth and fragrant looking. A young, ardent mouth, chin, a bit defensive, but not too much so. Gray eyes, very direct and unafraid, but a bit inquiring. The frown changed to a smile; she dismissed what she saw with a shrug. Five, ten years from now she would have to begin worrying but now she was quite lovely. She accepted this loveliness with an almost even mixture of casualness and gratitude. She was casual about it as all people are casual about familiar possessions; but she was grateful for it too—especially in moments like this when life seemed to be pressing close about her, demanding things of her, promising things to her.

She balanced the telephone against her knees, lifted the receiver from its enameled hook. Her voice when she gave the number was eagerly imperative. It would be nice to see Perry again—dance with him. In the moment before his voice came to her, clipped and lazily caressing, she visualized him perfectly. Tall, delightfully blond, altogether attractive. She had been in love with Perry three years before—she wondered if she would be again. The possibility that she might made this moment before they actually spoke to each other exciting and important.

Perry didn't get her voice at once. It had been a long time since he had heard it. When he did he was pleasantly stirred. He remembered her perfectly. She had come into the same year that he had finished law school and gone into his father's office. He had given her a terrific rush. She had been his first serious love. She had been, in fact, his only serious love. He remembered how beautifully they had danced together and how violently he had made love to her. Then her father had died suddenly and an aunt had rushed her off to Europe. He had tried to get her to marry him but she had been very young and not nearly so much in love as he.

All these things went through Perry's mind as he exchanged pleasant and flattering banalities with her over the wire. He reached for an engagement book, drew a line through an appointment with his tailor and made an engagement with her for that afternoon. Beyond that he would not commit himself. If she was still beautiful and willing and unattached, he would probably fall in love with her again. But he had had a hard time getting over her once and he did not intend to repeat the experiment if he could help it. She had scented all those things—beautiful and willing and unattached—but you never could tell—over a telephone anything was possible.

Nevertheless, it was with a certain vaguely familiar eagerness that he rang her bell that afternoon. He remembered the slow, pleasant looking woman who admitted him. Her name was Ellen and she had once been Stanley's nurse. She had been kind to him during the months that he had been so violently in love with Stanley.

While the leading oil stocks had a substantial advance from their lows of last year they do not yet seem to have fully discounted the prospective improvement in the industry. If there was one industry which needed Federal assistance, it was the petroleum industry and there is genuine hope that the NRA could provide a means of stabilizing production and of stabilizing prices at a profitable level.

At the present moment there is considerable anxiety over the forthcoming decision from a Federal court at Houston, Texas, in a case brought by independent oil producers to test the authority of the Texas Railroad Commission to regulate oil production and likewise to test the constitutionality of the National Recovery Act. Should this decision invalidate the power of the Federal and State authorities to curtail production, the petroleum industry might again be thrown into chaos.

Such a decision does not seem likely, but should it eventuate the Federal government would no doubt find other means of regulating this important industry. Oil is so vital to the welfare of the country and to the cause of national defense for the Federal government to permit a profligate waste of this national resource.

Controlled production and stabilization of prices at a reasonable level is all the petroleum industry needs for profitable operations.

Throughout the depression the demand for gasoline, particularly, but likewise lubricating oils, has held up in sufficient volume to afford satisfactory profits had it not been for the ruinous price cutting that was brought on by uncontrolled production. The expansion of business which seems to be in prospect for 1934 will carry an almost immediate stimulus to the oil industry.

It is predicted by some authorities that consumption in this current year will equal that of 1931, which was the peak year for all time. Thus with a good demand assured and with rather sanguine hopes of higher prices, together with better marketing practices, the oil industry looks forward to much more satisfactory operations.

Experts on Technique of Movie Love Making

GABLE AND HARLOW A-WOING
In the debate between Gordon Westcott, English actor who made good in Hollywood, and Claire Trevor, American starlet, as to whether or not the technique of love-making has changed, both sides seem to lose sight of the fact that the switch from silent to talking pictures resulted in the elimination of a lot of pantomime, necessary in the old days to put over the meaning now done with the spoken word. Comparison between a John Gilbert-Greta Garbo love scene of the silents, and a Clark Gable-Jean Harlow classic, via the talkies, ought to convince Westcott, who asserts the technique of wooing has not changed since Cleopatra vamped Marc Anthony, that there has been a revolution. Besides, where Gilbert employed honeyed words to win his beloved, Gable uses a left hook, and it works just as efficaciously.

THE DAY IN SPORTS

SPEED UP BASKETBALL

EDITOR'S NOTE: The ten and three second rules aided basketball materially for both the spectator and player. However, many believe the game can be helped by new rules. In this and the following of five stories, prominent Ohio coaches will discuss the question. In the sixth story, L. W. St. John, chairman of the National Rules Committee, will offer "rebuttal."

BY RAYMOND DETRICK
Basketball Coach, Ohio Wesleyan University

THERE are several important changes in the present basketball rules that I would like to see made. I believe they would prove beneficial to both spectator and player.

The more important change I advocate would be a rule whereby a penalty could be refused, the same as in football.

By this I mean that when an offensive player is going in for a basket and is fouled just before he shoots. The whistle blows but the basket is made.

The referee rules that no basket but allows two free throws and a personal foul against the defensive man. I recommend that the offense should have the right to refuse the personal foul and take the points made by the basket.

Along this same line I would like to see a rule that when a defensive man fouls the player shooting and the basket is made there be no extra free throw to follow. This is, if the basket is missed, charge the foul and if the basket is made do not charge the foul and allow no extra free throws.

THEN, TOO, I believe it would prove beneficial if the number of personal fouls that disqualify a man for further play be increased from four to five. This would allow for a faster and less cautious game.

I would like to see the rules committee allow more freedom in the back court in regard to contact and traveling. There would be no material advantage gained but the spectators would see more action and not a foul shooting contest.

Basketball in the east has been almost ruined by the above mentioned element and as a result spectators are following hockey instead of basketball because they prefer a faster game. In order to save the game the coaches must get together and instill more speed and excitement into the game.

One method of speeding up the game could be obtained by eliminating the center jump after a basket had been made. Let the ball be taken out of bounds by the other team after a basket. I find this speeds up the game and offers more playing time as well as a lot of action. I have used this method in my gym classes in the past two years and find it to be of great advantage.

SIDINGER LEADS SALEM VARSITY TO BIG TEN WIN

Triumph Enables Brown-men to Continue Campaign for Crown

Salem High basketeers took a long stride forwards in their triumphant march towards the Northeastern Ohio Big Ten league championship as they handed a heralded Massillon High quintet a decisive 24-11 trouncing here Saturday night.

Victors Emerge From Slump

Emerging from the slump that had sent them down to defeat at East Palestine Friday night, the Quakers were again the great aggregation that had previously won seven straight contests and recalled to Salem's fond memory the scholastic machine of 1926-27—Robert Campbell, Malcolm Rush, Lester Older and others—who carried their school's colors to statewide fame. It was as impressive a victory as has been attained by a Salem varsity in years.

Wayne Sidinger led the Brown-men to their spectacular triumph as he clearly outplayed and outclassed the former Negro pivotman, D. C. McCants and scored 14 points to the latter's one. John Pukalski, Charles McCloskey, Lawrence Kaercher and Earl Zelle all played flashy ball, combining with Sidinger to form a truly strong team that apparently, for the first time in history, is to win the Big Ten crown.

The triumph enabled the Red and Black to retain its undisputed hold on first place in the sectional circuit and eliminated the Tigers from the ranks of title contenders. Salem has three more games in the Big Ten, with Alliance, Struthers and Niles, and is favored to finish the campaign with a Big Ten record unmarred by defeat.

Massillon Scores First

Massillon registered the first point of the game as McCants, who started the game at forward while the Tigers' high-scoring forward, Chovanek, was kept on the sidelines temporarily, tossed in a free throw after being fouled by Sidinger. A few seconds later Sidinger put Salem in front, 2-1, by a long side shot, then, after being fouled by Marcus, Massillon center, tossed the leather through the hoop for a one-pointer. Continuing his great comeback after a disappointing evening at Palestine, Salem's pivotman registered another field goal as he followed through on a short shot to beat the ball in and Salem led, 5-1. Marcus scored a short shot for Massillon as the period ended.

Chovanek was inserted into the fray early in the second period and McCants went to his regular post of center with Marcus being called to the sidelines. Pukalski had kept McCants well under control in the first period and the Tiger center found the going just as tough, if not even more so, after the switch coupled him up against Sidinger.

Kaercher, Pukalski Score
Kaercher sneaked through to score the first field goal in the second period then Pukalski counted in a long shot. Shackleton tossed a basket from action for Massillon but Sidinger came right back to tally from long range on a beautiful effort. Kowell, a member of Massillon's great team of 1933 whose return to the lineup Saturday strengthened the visitors considerably, registered his first point of the game on a free throw then Kaercher scored a gift shot and the lead ended, 12-8, Salem leading.

Kaercher tallied again from the free throw stripe as the third quarter opened and Kowell scored a long shot for Massillon. Both teams went scoreless for three minutes, until Sidinger, fouled by McCants, made good on one out of two efforts. Following the tipoff Sidinger followed through on his own shot from the side and boosted his team's advantage to 15-9 with a sensational tip shot.

Mount is a heavy favorite to upset Hiram but the result of the Wooster game is a distinct toss-up.

Massillon called time in a vain effort to halt the Brownmen and, as play resumed, the teams battled on even terms until Kowell scored on a long side shot. His effort closed scoring in the quarter and Salem led, 16 to 10.

Salem Starts Real Rally
It was still anybody's ball game and Massillon's coach, Paul Brown, disappointed by his ace scorer's inability to penetrate Salem's defense, withdrew Chovanek and inserted Breidger. However, this period, the fourth, was to bring Salem's performance to its peak as the team held the invaders to a long foul loss by Kowell while Sidinger & Co. scored in eight points.

Sidinger and Kaercher each tallied a basket from action and McCloskey scored a foul. Another field goal by Sidinger and a foul by Kaercher brought scoring in the game to a close and shortly afterwards Sidinger was disqualified by four personal fouls and gave way to Charles Palmer. Ben Cope and Thiri Eckstein also experienced action in the final period.

STEWART'S LONG SHOT WINS FOR POTTERY SQUAD

Columbiana Cagers Trim Canfield High, 16-15, in Overtime Fray

WELLSVILLE, Jan. 29—A long shot by Stewart in closing seconds of play provided the winning points as East Liverpool High gained an 16-15 decision over Wellsville in a close battle here Saturday night.

Handicapped by the small court, Pottery losers were never able to assert any real superiority over the Tigers who led until the last five minutes of play.

Shots by Mackey and Laughlin enabled the Pottery to even the count at 16-all with five minutes of play remaining. Both teams began hurling tosses from long range in a desperate attempt to gain the upper hand but Stewart's shot was the only one to register.

Liverpool reserves downed Wellsville reserves, 29 to 24.

"Rieals' Toss By Rush Loses Game For Akron Squad

Malcolm Rush's "Roy Rieals" basket provided winning points for the Erie, Pa. Ritz Pennsylvanians who defeated the Akron Goodyear five, 28-26, Saturday night.

Rush's unintentional act of kindness broke a 27-27 deadlock and eventually proved the margin of victory for the Erie team.

The former Salem High star, however, led Goodyear attack with 18 points. Rob Cope tallied seven.

U. S. Hope in Grand National

The only American-owned, American-bred entry in the Grand National to be run at Aintree, England, March 23 is "Chenango," G. H. (Pete) Bostwick's great steeplechaser, shown above with his owner up. Bostwick may ride his entry in the jump classic. Eight other American-owned horses, of English or Irish breeding, are among the seventy-three thoroughbreds nominated for the race.

N. JACKSON EASY FOR GREENFORD

Kenreich Leads Attack of Villagers in 54-17 Win Saturday

GREENFORD, Jan. 29—Greenford copped a victory over the North Jackson boys by a 54-17 count here tonight. Kenreich made five field goals and one foul shot to lead the way for Greenford while Martinovich, was the star player for the losers.

The Greenford maidens also triumphed over North Jackson, 29-17. Kindig tallied 12 points to top the Greenford scoring column and Kimmell looked best for the losers.

AMATEUR FIGHT STARS COLLIDE HERE TONIGHT

Salem Lads Seek Titles in Tournament at Memorial Gym

Twenty or more of Columbiana county's leading amateur boxers will compete for championships in several divisions in the American Legion tournament at the Memorial building gymnasium tonight.

A card of ten or more bouts is assured by Commissioner H. E. Zepernick, in charge of the show which, he said, will go under way at about 8:15.

Gus Sechler will be chief referee with Norman Peters as timer. Bouts will be for three, three-minute rounds to the decision of two judges and the referee.

Winners of the county titles will be advanced to the regional tourney at Steubenville. Those triumphing at Steubenville will compete in the sectional competition at Massillon.

Survivors at Massillon will have earned the right to vie for the championship titles at the Good-year auditorium, Akron, in March.

Six or more Salem lads, including Walter Dickey, 1933 finalist at the state tourney at Columbus, will be entered in tonight's tourney, Zepernick said.

Salem Tossers Gain Verdict in Thrilling 22-21 Contest

Withstanding a sensational last-period rally by the invaders, Salem High reserves won out the strong Massillon reserve quintet, 22-21, here Saturday night.

Leading throughout the game, the Salem lads had piled up a fairly comfortable lead when the Tigers launched their spurt.

It was a thrilling fray with Beck, Shears and Scullion starring for Salem while Voss and Rohr led Massillon's attack.

Blue Days
NEW YORK—Gloom hangs over the head of Dodger fans these days in Brooklyn because officials of the club failed to take part in the heavy and hectic trading of the past month.

Hopeful of seeing some new faces this season, Dodger fans are waiting patiently for announcement of a deal or two from headquarters.

However, none seem to be in the offing and it seems now that the regular pitching staff will consist of Van Mungo, Walter Beck, Ray Benge and Gene Carroll, with Joe Shauts next in line.

homicides at Michigan City, Ind., September 23. Clark, Pierpont and Makley were among those who escaped.

Two other women arrested with Dillinger and his men—Opal Long and Ann Martin—each said will be turned over to whoever claims them.

An attorney for the gangster, John L. Van Duren, promised to fight to prevent removal of the desperadoes before court actions have settled disposal of nearly $40,000 in cash taken from the men. Surety companies have filed attachments against the money in behalf of robbed banks.

Walking into the cell block containing Dillinger, Chief Makar and Sheriff Holley said simultaneously: "He's the man who killed C'Malley."

Dillinger crowded and pated his cell.

Meanwhile, Racine officials were hurried to Tucson, to claim Dillinger, and, if possible, his henchmen, for bank robbery in Wisconsin.

Today

A Review of the Day's News
—By Arthur Brisbane—

TOMORROW the President passes 52 and begins his 53rd year, feeling old as men always do at 52, for some queer reason.

The nation will celebrate the event with dinners in many cities all over the United States. Each too, even, birthday gathering will eat, and all will have speeches, presumably, for Americans must have speeches. Some dinners will dance between courses, on little spaces of floor well polished. That is comparatively new. Benjamin Franklin did not get up after the cup and hop around, ruining his lesson. Some dinners will eat, drink, dance, and watch "entertainments", consisting, usually, of young ladies, not too much dressed, and singing light airs, more or less unobtrusively.

No matter what else the diners do, they will contribute to a useful purpose that interests the President and they will drink something, to his health, long life and continued success, in perfect sincerity.

PROFESSOR CHARLES A. KOEHL, chairman of the department of zoology at California's Berkeley university, reports that the intensive study of destructive termites, carried on for several years, has been completed. The findings of the learned Berkeley zoology staff are embodied in a book, "Termites and Termite Control," which is recommended to intelligent men, generally, and especially to those interested in wooden building construction, or any other use of wood or lumber.

TERMITES are gradually spreading throughout the country, and whereas rumors of extreme cold were supposed to be safe from them, the destructive creatures are acquiring adaptability to climate as great as that of man himself.

Many still ask a foolish question, "of what real use is science?" The book on termites answers that, being an admirable example of co-operative effort between industry and what is usually called "pure research."

The Eye Has It

To you and you and you, who think yourself a martyr if you are obliged to thread a needle just once, we recommend Polly Walters, stage star, who is shown putting the 172nd thread through the eye of the needle to win championship at New York. Maybe the traditional camel might come easy to Polly.

Movie Reunion in Paris

James J. Walker

Douglas Fairbanks, Jr.

It is always nice to meet someone from home in a foreign land, so we may take it that the meeting between James J. Walker, former Mayor of New York, and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., in Paris, was like money from home to both. Jimmy is congratulating Doug on his performance in a new film, at the Paris premiere of which they met.

Novelties Abundant In State's Hit; Dorothy Wilson Star In Coming Film

"EIGHT GIRLS IN A BOAT" is the title of the film at the State theater Wednesday and Thursday. Its leading players include Dorothy Wilson, Douglas Montgomery, Kay Johnson and Patsy Montgomery.

Johnston is a leading lady a few years ago—remember her in "Madame Satan" and "Dynamite"? Walter Connolly and Patsy Montgomery who used to be the famous "Baby Peggy." In addition there are eight contest winners, one from Cleveland, who play important parts as friends of Miss Wilson.

School Locale

This is a story of youth. Most of it was filmed along the shore of Lake Arrowhead, California, a place noted for its pictorial beauty.

The story is based on the European film by the same name and adheres closely to the original, though it was rewritten and adapted for the American screen by Lewis Foster. It is laid against a background of an exclusive girls' school whose walls and stern rules forbid "no man allowed." All girls are between the ages of 15 and 17 and dream of the "drama" part-ties and such that other girls of their ages are having. One girl, Christa Stern, (played by Miss Wilson) does meet a boy. He is a student of a nearby college and she manages to meet him secretly.

Dorothy Wilson

Father Misunderstands
They fall in love and when her father appears most unexpectedly to see his daughter the boy asks his permission to marry Christa—the father refuses. The girl takes absolutely no interest in her school work afterwards and as a result the athletic instructor punishes her during swimming practice by making her dive repeatedly from a high board. The girl collapses and the seemingly hardhearted teacher proves to be her one true friend.

It all ends happily with the boy and girl being married and the father realizing that his daughter is no longer a child but a woman.

The instructor's part is handled by the capable Miss Johnson, the boy by Montgomery and the father by Connolly, who played Marion Davies' father in "Pig O' My Heart."

profit on the dollar value of the nation's gold of $2,668,666,601. That profit is on the basis of a 60 per cent revaluation, the figure indicated by the present government gold price. Dividing the legal mint gold price of $20.67 by the treasury price of $34.45 gives an even 60 per cent.

World Keep Dollar Cheap
At present, Britain's money objectives and those of this country are not regarded as necessarily opposed. The United States wants to keep the dollar cheap in foreign exchange as an export stimulus. London, apparently, has thoughtfully studied its huge foreign capital investments, and decided interest should be paid in a costly pound. Its equalization fund has been used accordingly.

But Britain, too, has a large export trade. Pending possible stabilization, there is the struggle for world export markets, which may involve both nations. Eventually the two nations will talk stabilization, but there has been nothing to indicate that these parties will come in the immediate future.

Motorist Is Hurt

ELYRIA, O., Jan. 29.—J. J. Parks, general manager of the southern division of Steel Tube, Inc., was injured critically when his automobile left a highway and struck a tree.

BOSTON—College professors were harassed by "boney" money 600 years ago, according to Prof. Edward Collier of the department of history at Boston university. At the University of Bologna, he said, professors who violated rules were fined in "Bologna shillings and pounds."

PHILADELPHIA—In an effort to bring about a more sympathetic attitude toward other races and nations, Temple University has established a course in "Education for Better Relations."

IS THERE ROOM FOR A SECOND GREAT LOVE IN A WOMAN'S LIFE ?

TRY as she would, pretty Stanley Paige could not bring her whole self to meet John Harmon's love. She was ashamed, her affection seemed so beggarly beside the great emotion he felt for her. . . It had not always been that way. Once before there had been another man. Then she could return those kisses with all her heart. . . Was that part of her destined to remain in her past? Or would marriage change things, and would she be able to give John the love he deserved? Don't miss this exciting story of what marriage taught a modern girl.
